

US 'Glambassador' for Invivo

INVIVO HAS partnered with American media personality Nigel Barker, with the former model, judge and photographer on America's Next Top Model now their US Glambassador.

Barker was introduced to Invivo's Pinot Noir five years ago while in New Zealand shooting America's Next Top Model. He struck up a friendship with owners Tim Lightbourne and Rob Cameron who sent him the wine whenever they could. When Invivo launched in the US earlier this year with Invivo Sauvignon Blanc, Invivo Pinot Noir and Graham Norton's special edition Sauvignon Blanc, the pair brought Barker on board in an official capacity.
