

of New
– Lucy Diamond,
– out Thursday
terrace in Brighton
illy transformative
ee women who
home, all hoping
e to the seaside
their troubled
witty and with
real poignancy,
optimistic and
d read.

usive husband is
n moves to London fe anew. But
usband's mistress,
d to take what she
is owed.
sly dark
thriller, that
our certainties
e explosive final

DEIRDRE O'BRIEN

hire winter walk
's visitor centre.
ath by fence,
nd go downhill

ridor of
pond.
ood.
n gate,
er gate

, walk
Cross to path
ion, near a
d through

Lodge,

DVD

THE
MAGNIFICENT
SEVEN

THIS guns-
blazing
remake of the much-
loved 1960
Western classic
stars Denzel
Washington and
Chris Pratt.
They are part of
a gang of seven
gunslingers
recruited to help
save mild-
mannered locals
of Rose Creek
from a corrupt
industrialist
and his blood-
thirsty mob.

and you can
enjoy it in this tribute show
dedicated to the life and work of the Purple One.

An eight-piece live band deliver a non-stop hit-packed show.
www.celebrationofprince.com
London Fashion Week Festival, Store Studios, (Feb 23 – 26)

HERE'S your chance to get a taste of the fabulous life of a fashionista and browse designer collections.

Take your place for a view of the catwalk, shop for over 150 exclusive brands and enjoy talks from industry insiders. Check out the website londonfashionweekfestival.com/tickets

Radio

The Nigel Farage Show LBC, 7pm Mon Nigel Farage has his own talk show four evenings a week, focusing on opinion and discussions with callers and ending with his final thought.
He broadcasts from the LBC studios, or from in Europe and the US. Tune in – or call in for a debate.

Wine of
the week

Celebrity white wine

Graham Norton's Own
Sauvignon Blanc, £8.99,
www.majestic.co.uk

CHAT show host Graham Norton has blended this dry, fruity, zingy tipple with flavours of grapefruit and gooseberries. It certainly pulls you back in for another glass.

