Chat show host Graham Norton has released his second vintage of GN Sauvignon Blanc 2016, Marlborough, New Zealand (£10.99, Majestic) – the 2015 vintage was a sell-out, with more than 400,000 bottles sold and 50% more has been made this year to cope with demand.

Famous for filling his guests' wine glasses, Norton has been personally involved in blending this latest release, which he describes as “easy drinking with all the grassiness and zest you expect from a New World sauvignon blanc, but I like to think it has a bit of an Old World finish. Oh, and it's affordable!”
